

Shiksha Prayas

MARCH HIGHLIGHTS

Workshops, annual awards, value-added classes sprinkled with science quizzes, reading sessions, computer education and breaking the English barrier through games and role plays took the Shiksha Prayas March forward. Read on...

Shiksha Prayas

MISSION POSSIBLE

The desire to help a child with no means to study was the trigger for Pawan and Sangeeta Kamra's first free tuition centre in Gurgaon. Preeti, one of their first students, and now centre manager herself, recalls with fondness and gratitude how on one occasion, she just couldn't get her math right. Upset, she decided not to go back to the centre ever. .

But Sangeeta would have none of it. And made sure Preeti got back to the classroom. Again, for another Kanhai student Ritika Verma, life took a turn when she was offered the teacher's role at the centre once she moved to college. The trust made her the responsible person she is today

Shiksha Prayas

MISSION POSSIBLE

These, and so many more stories, speak volumes of Pawan and Sangeeta's unwavering belief in their cause and its potential to change lives. Convinced of their purpose, friends, colleagues and family joined the duo in their mission and singular intent of educating every child who doesn't have the means.

The sincerity, and dedication hasn't waned nor lost its shine over the twenty-four years. 'No' is an option Pawan never exercises and doesn't rest till the help is facilitated and closed. His personal connect with students is remarkable, as is his keenness and involvement in the day-to-day running of the organisation. His eye for detail and constructive feedback is what keeps the Shiksha Prayas wheel moving.

On behalf of the hundreds of students you've held the light for, and the proud donors and volunteers happy to further your mission, a bow and a salute to you both, Pawan and Sangeeta. Stay blessed, and keep the SP flag flying high.

A decorative graphic at the bottom of the page consisting of numerous thin, overlapping white lines that form a series of soft, undulating waves across the width of the page.

Shiksha Prayas

TEACHER'S WORKSHOP WITH SONALI JHA

Two days with Sonali changed the classrooms at Kanhai FTC. On the 19th and 20th, teachers took time off from their classes to gain new insights into student mind sets and use new techniques to keep the classroom lively and buzzing.

Teachers have been working on newly learnt skills and are enjoying their own learning thoroughly. The same will be replicated in Taraori, Siwan and Polar soon.

Shiksha Prayas

SCIENCE QUIZ

Twenty-third March, before the centres broke up for a Holi break, students geared up for a Science Quiz that covered topics a little beyond their syllabus.

As usual, the competition brought out the best within the teams, and the mixed bag of questions ignited the juniors to wonder and wow at the fascinating facts that tumbled out during the event.

Shiksha Prayas

BLOWING AWAY THE EXAM BLUES

What a relief it is to have the exams over. So, while the results are a good two weeks away, why not have fun? Getting our hands on the keyboard, role-playing, reading, and picking up English conversational skills through just games?

Shiksha Prayas

AWARDS AND RECOGNITION

We knew this would excite our shishyas no end, but we weren't prepared for the Miss Universe kind of responses which swept us off our feet too!

There were awards for academic excellence, all-round performance and attendance, and the positivity and hope this recognition created would go a long way in improving overall scores in the next academic session, we are sure.

Shiksha Prayas

LIKE OUR NEW LOOK?

Yes, you do, and this fresh breeze comes from Harsh Thakur, who has volunteered to design the Shiksha Prayas Newsletter. On the throes of graduating from GNA University, Ludhiana with a B.Tech in Product and Automation Designing, Harsh has effortlessly re-fashioned our monthly update since January 2024, while studying and interning this term.

Thank you, Harsh for your very valuable contribution, and we all wish you a steady start to your career

Thank you for supporting us with your contributions, and making our lives more meaningful.

Warm regards,

Shiksha Prayas Team.
